NEW HORIZONS

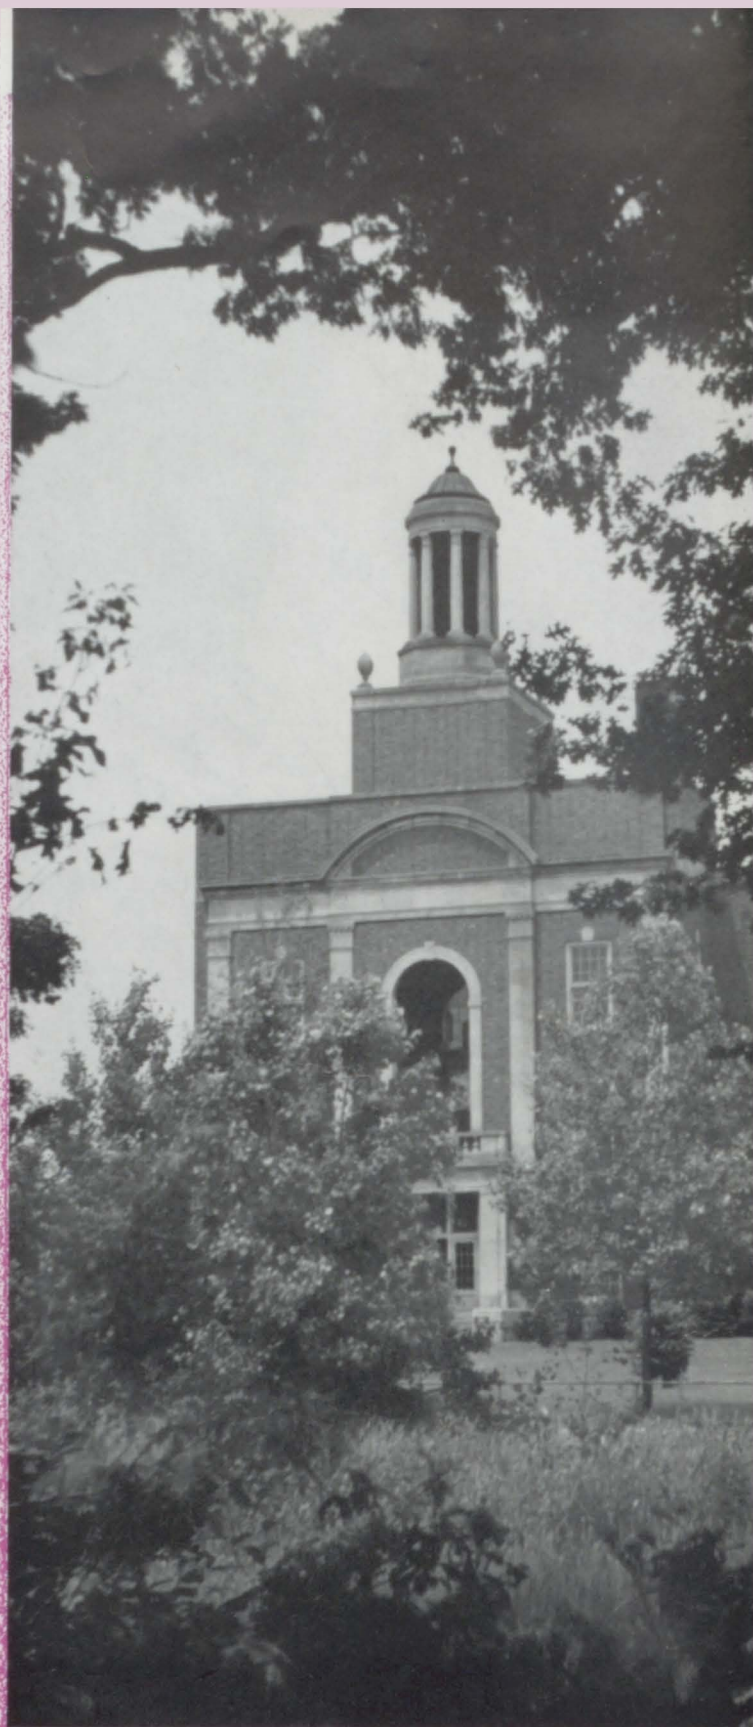

Equipping ourselves to live in the world of tomorrow the task of each of us today. Through the many timely courses offered here at Lew Wallace, we have caught a telescopic glimpse beyond the new horizons. Potential aviators study the principles of aeronautics; sanguine interest has arisen in world problems; and girls investigate home nursing and child care. With the unconquerable spirit of hope and faith we stride forward to meet these new horizons.

"Living is dreaming. Only in the grave are there no dreams."

LEW WALLACE, An Autobiography.

Square-shouldered, alert cadets are the focal point of interest for Mrs. Greve and Mr. Carmony.

youthful citizens who must cross the many horizons of a world at peace. By promoting war service activities, they hasten the day of victory.

VERNA M. HOKE
Principal

FIRM in her convictions, straightforward in her decisions, and astute in her executive ability is our principal, Miss Hoke.

Realizing the important role of education in a world of war and peace, she has devoted endless time and energy to the task of guaranteeing us the best in education. Buffeting the tension and confusion of the times, she has tried to develop in students a sense of strict self discipline. Special emphasis has been placed on the constructive application of knowledge rather than meaningless pedantry.

Ever alert to the new horizons in education, our principal has instituted many progressive changes during the past year. Among these has been the organization of special refresher courses to help students review and master the fundamentals of a subject.

In response to all our problems she gives careful consideration and intelligent guidance.

Aside from the many weighty problems of school administration, Miss Hoke finds a few precious moments to spend in reading, attending the latest plays, and listening to fine music. Doing many homely little tasks in her apartment is a source of genuine pleasure to her. Capitalizing on her broad scope of interests, Miss Hoke imparts a rich quality to every service she performs.

—Zonabel Kingery.

FLOYD G. ASHER

[My Buddy?] - Bob Henderson

THE assistant principal of our school, Mr. Asher, is a graduate of Indiana State Teacher's College with a Bachelor Science degree, and Indiana University with a Master's degree in the Science of Education.

Any leisure time he finds is spent on a farm near Gosport, Indiana. He keeps up to date on the latest agricultural news by belonging to the City Farmer's Club in Lake County. As an apiculturist, he pleases his friends and neighbors by presenting them at various times with jars of honey.

As well as reading extensively on the culture of bees, he likes the more factual type of books and is interested in philosophy. This study has enabled him to carry on his most important work as counselor of boys.

—Pat Remier.

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES

The board of school trustees is composed of five Gary business men and women who work with Superintendent Lutz to allocate school funds to their right purposes. Frequently they work late into the night to see that the money is properly distributed. Every expenditure, whether it is a few dollars or a thousand dollars, comes under the board's consideration. In addition to handling the schools' finances the group often studies safety, health, and other problems of students in the various schools. The members of this board are appointed by the mayor for a term of four years.

The president, Mr. Edward T. Doyne, is assistant superintendent of mechanical maintenance in the Gary Sheet and Tin Mill. He will complete seven years of membership on the board in August.

Mr. Lloyd F. Burress, the vice-president of the board, is division superintendent of the Joliet and Gary Coke Plant. He has been a member of the board for four years.

The treasurer, Mrs. Edith E. Dorman, has been on the board for three years. She is the secretary-treasurer on the executive board of a large automobile salesroom in downtown Gary.

Mr. Cloyce A. Bowers, who is the secretary, has been a druggist for many years and owns a pharmacy in Miller. In August he will complete his second year as a trustee.

Mr. Michael J. Lobo, the latest appointee, is in the production planning department for the blast furnaces and coke plant. He was graduated from Froebel High School and is Glen Park's representative on the board.

—Mary Supica.

Mr. Burress, Mr. Bowers, Mr. Doyne, Mrs. Dorman, Superintendent Lutz, Mr. Lobo.

LEW WALLACE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Lew Wallace Advisory Council has been functioning for the benefit of the students of Lew Wallace for fourteen years. This group is composed of public spirited Glen Park residents who are interested in the affairs of the student body because they have children attending this school.

In choosing the members of the council the Glen Park district is divided into eight sections with at least one, if not more, representatives from each. There are usually two or three members at large. This assures representation from all parts of the Lew Wallace School district. Prospective councilors are recommended by the current members of the council and are then invited by the school administrators to become members. Councilors serve for a term of one year—one half complete their term and are replaced in February and the other half finish in June.

The advisory council is part of Superintendent Charles D. Lutz's plan for community participation in the affairs of the school and the students. Working with Miss Hoke and Mr. Asher in monthly luncheon meetings, the council talks over any type of question that may arise concerning the students.

Among the many kinds of questions discussed are juvenile delinquency, withdrawals, problems of students who work part time, misunderstandings between the students and teachers, and improvements in the school.

The aim of the group is to bring together school administrators, parents, teachers, and alumni to help promote a better understanding among these people, the students, and the community in general.

INSTRUCTORS

MISS BAILEY

Ruth Bailey, who looks after the health of the student body, is recognized in three states, Indiana, Illinois, and Florida, as a registered nurse. She attended O l n e y Sanitarium Training School for Nurses. To prevent epidemics, students are required after absence on account of illness, to have Miss Bailey's permission before attending classes.

MR. CARMONY

Edwin Carmony, who teaches mathematics and is known to all students, is a staunch supporter of our school and helps to develop school spirit through the activities of cheer leaders and Booster Club.

He received a B.S. degree from Ball State Teachers College and an M.A. from Indiana University.

MISS CHEEVER

Mary Cheever, sponsor of the Sprencb Club and co-sponsor of Girls' Club, is our French and Spanish teacher. She received the A.B. degree from Indiana University, the M.A. from Columbia, and a Diplome from the Sorbonne in France.

She is also a member of the Red Cross Motor Corps.

MR. BOBELE

Sam Bobele, the assistant band director, after graduating from Emerson High School, attended I n d i a n a University where he received a Bachelor of Public School Music degree.

He plays the cornet in a professional band. In his spare time he enjoys reading current books and playing with his two sons, Harvey and Merrill.

MISS BOWLES

Frances B o w l e s, besides teaching English, has charge of the journalism class which publishes the "Philosopher." She attended Park College where she received her A.B. degree and obtained her M.A. from the Bread Loaf School of English at Middlebury, Vermont.

She is also a poet in her own right.

MRS. COONS

O u r librarian, Margaret Neeld Coons, is always on hand with a suggestion for a good book. Furthermore, her genial personality and wit combine to make her well liked by all the students.

She received Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Library degrees from the University of Illinois.

MRS. BOOSE

Doris Boose, instructor of mathematics, was graduated from Indiana University with a B.S. degree and from Harvard University with a Ed.M., the only degree which this school confers upon women.

During the summer vacation she has successfully managed several kinds of business projects. She also enjoys doing fancy work.

MR. COONS

Lamon Kendle Coons, who was graduated from the University of Illinois with B.S. and M.S. degrees, is our teacher of physics, aeronautics and senior science.

He is an expert at making fudge and playing chess, and he claims to be a former tennis champion.

MRS. CLEMENS

Martha Clemens, who received her B.A. degree from Butler University, has been teaching English at Lew Wallace for a number of years.

Her chief outside interest is her young son, Kenneth Edward. She also finds time to see stage plays, read, cook, hike, and fish.

MR. DREVEN

J. J. Dreven is in charge of our print shop. He puts it to practical use by supplying many kinds of programs, tickets, and supplies for the school. His hobbies are reading good books and eating good food.

He has attended the State Universities of Indiana, Purdue, and Colorado.

MRS. CRAWFORD

Hazel Crawford, a teacher of bookkeeping, typing, commercial arithmetic, and the use of office machines, graduated from the Gregg Normal School in Chicago and the Central Business College in Indianapolis. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Indiana State Teachers College.

MR. HARTSOUGH

Everett G. Hartsough graduated from Manchester College with the A.B. degree. He is the first-aid, safety and health teacher. Outside of his classes he displays enthusiasm in all school affairs and also takes an active interest in community and church organizations.

MISS DeVOL

Mary Joan DeVOL, a new faculty member, formerly taught at Alexandria, Indiana. She received the B.S. degree from Indiana University. Her father is basketball coach at Columbia City High School, so this may account for her athletic interests. She sponsors the Girls Athletic Association and teaches girls physical education.

MR. HAYES

John L. Hayes, our mechanical drawing, drafting, and high school safety teacher, holds the Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Indiana State Teachers College and the Master of Science from Indiana University. The outside patrol, an active organization, is his responsibility and functions under his guidance.

MISS EGGER

The director and sponsor of our Girls Glee Club and A Cappella Choir is Helen Egger who also teaches grade and high school music. She graduated from Bush Conservatory with the Bachelor of Music degree and from the Chicago Musical College with the Master of Music degree.

MRS. ELKINTON

Jennie Elkinton, the chairman sponsor of the Sophomore class, teaches clothing, more commonly known as sewing, to both grade and high school girls. Also new in this field are courses of home making and child care open to senior girls. She holds the B.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin.

MRS. ENSWEILER

The sponsor of the Inkpot Club is Nelle G. Ensweiler, teacher of English. She is active in the Gary Woman's Press Club and has been co-author of several English books, some of which are used in our school. She holds the B.S. degree from Indiana State Teachers College.

MRS. GOGLEY

Katherine D. Gogley, one of the new faculty members, teaches commercial subjects. She graduated from Indiana State Teachers College and received the Bachelor of Science degree. Last year she taught at Gary Business College. Outside of school her main interest lies in her home and little daughter, Linda.

INSTRUCTORS

INSTRUCTORS

MRS. HANNSZ

Mattie Hannsz sponsors the A.O.A., the Auditorium Council, directs the dramatic part of the annual Christmas Pageant, and helps the seniors plan their Class Day activities, besides performing her duties as head of the auditorium department. She received the B.S. degree from Northwestern University.

MR. HENDRICKSON

Clarence V. Hendrickson not only directs the band and orchestra for our school, but has published a series of books on the clarinet method. The winter and spring concerts are attended by all the community who enjoy a program of first-class musical entertainment. He received the B.M. degree from Northwestern University.

MRS. HARDING

Georgia Harding, a home economics instructor, received the B.S. degree from Indiana University. Her classes are not limited to the high school as she has several grade school classes.

Her present interest is in preparing well balanced meals of unrationed food. These menus are welcomed in all homes.

MR. JAMES

Wilfred James, a newcomer in the English department, received the A.A. degree from Crane Jr. College in Chicago, the A.B. degree from Dubuque, and the M.A. degree from Northwestern University. Chief among his extra-curricular interests is his young daughter, but he also enjoys golfing.

MISS HARTNETT

As a recent addition to our faculty, Alice Rose Hartnett, a speech teacher in the auditorium department, needed no introduction to our school because she is a member of the graduating class of 1938. Miss Hartnett attended Mudelein College in Chicago where she received a Bachelor of Arts degree.

MR. KRAMPE

Our woodshop teacher, Virgil Krampe, holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Indiana State Teachers College. He is an aviation enthusiast and makes models of planes and tanks. Besides being a loyal booster of all sports, he puts around his own home and enjoys listening to good music.

MISS HELMERICK

Some students think Frances Helmerick is new at Lew Wallace but she taught here three years ago. A graduate of Horace Mann School, Miss Helmerick received the B.S. degree from Northwestern University and the M.A. from Indiana University. She teaches community civics and world history.

MRS. KELLY

Mildred Kelly attended La Cross State Normal, Purdue, the American College of Physical Education and the University of Wisconsin. She not only teaches gym but also is an expert instructress in swimming. Her interests are in auditorium work, music, and folk and modern dancing.

MRS. KRUEGER

Pearl Krueger, one of our sewing teachers, received the B.S. degree from Oxford University, Oxford, Ohio. For two years she has been chairman of the senior class sponsors and has handled all the intricacies of graduation. The honor roll for servicemen is kept up to date under her supervision.

MR. MASTERS

Wilson H. Masters came to Lew Wallace in '41. Besides being a teacher of social studies, he teaches mathematics. He received his B.S. degree in Education from Southeastern Missouri State Teachers College and his M.A. from the University of Chicago. He is the chairman sponsor of the Junior Class.

MISS LEMON

Lola Lemon graduated with A.B. and M.A. degrees from Indiana University. She is the biology teacher and sponsor of the Biology Club. In addition she is the co-sponsor of the defense stamp sales committee. She has been a member of the Indiana Academy of Science for nine years.

MR. POLK

Coach Dick Polk, who has been teaching at Lew Wallace since 1931, received his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees from Indiana University. He coaches basketball, freshman football, cross country, and the track team. Coach is a co-sponsor of the Boys Club and a very convincing speaker.

MRS. MACKENZIE

Our newest instructor, Helen S. Mackenzie, came to us from a chemist's position in the Gary Tubular Alloy Steel Corporation. As a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Mrs. Mackenzie holds B.A. and M.A. degrees. Along with her duties as the chemistry teacher, she sponsors Klub Kem.

MR. REED

Gordon C. Reed attended Oshkosh State Teachers College in Wisconsin. We all know him as the general shop instructor. Mr. Reed sponsors the Projector Club, which is responsible for our visual education program. During the summer recess he helps in the war effort as a construction electrician at the Indiana Steel Products Company.

MISS McLEAN

In connection with her several Latin classes, Agnes McLean sponsors the Olympian Society. She has an A.B. degree from Northwestern University and an M. A. degree from the University of Colorado. Her travels in the United States and Europe are very interesting to all her students.

MISS NESBIT

Allegra Nesbit graduated from the University of Chicago and received Ph.B. and M.A. degrees. Besides serving as the student guidance and war counselor she is a history teacher, and co-sponsor of both the Girls Club and the Aides. She also finds time to be a member of the Red Cross Motor Corps.

MISS PARNELL

Evelyn Parnell received her A.B. degree from DePauw and M.A. degree from the University of Colorado. Besides teaching English, she sponsors the Salmagundians. Her interests lie in cooking and playing the piano and saxophone. A first hand informant assures us that she does each of these exceptionally well.

MISS RICHARDSON

Rose Richardson is sponsor of the Cifr Club, the mathematicians joy. She teaches math classes and finds time to correspond with a number of Lew Wallace service men. Each year her students trim a Christmas tree with geometric designs. She received the Ph.B. degree from the University of Chicago.

INSTRUCTORS

MRS. ROESINGER

Iris Roesinger was graduated from Indiana State Teachers College with a Bachelor of Science degree. She has two great responsibilities, one planning a twenty cent, balanced meal for primary children, and the other to have balanced and varied menus for students and teachers who buy their lunches in the cafeteria.

MR. POLIZOTTO

Coach Dom Polizotto, a graduate of Froebel High School, received his Bachelor of Science degree from Kansas State Teachers College. He coaches football and swimming teams as well as freshman basketball teams.

During the summer vacations Coach Polizotto is the head life guard at the Marquette Park Beach.

MISS RZEPKA

Helen Rzepka, a graduate of Froebel High School, received her Bachelor of Science degree from Indiana University. She is a newcomer to the mathematics department. Swimming and bowling are her favorite sports, but music, books, bridge, and travel form the background for her out-of-school activities.

MR. TORMOHLEN

Willard Tormohlen received his B.A. degree from Indiana State Teachers College and M.A. degree from South Dakota University. As a social studies teacher for over twelve years and co-sponsor and co-founder of the Aides, he has proved a real asset to the extra-curricular program.

MISS SCHEDELL

Elizabeth Scheddell, assistant director of our orchestra, received her B.M. degree from the University of Illinois and her B.S. degree from the Cosmopolitan School of Music. In a string section of the Gary Symphony, she plays the viola. She helps students master the fundamentals of instruments and interpret classical music.

MR. SHIRK

Bernard T. Shirk, an English teacher, received his B.A., cum laude, and M.A. degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He is chairman sponsor of Boys Club, and a Junior Honor Society sponsor. He is a "handy man" at home, too, and can frequently be seen doing household chores.

MISS SHELLEY

When Glenn Shelley graduated from the University of Chicago, she received a Bachelor of Philosophy degree in education. Not only does she prove capable as an English instructor, but also as a promoter of school activities. Of these the Quill and Blade is outstanding. Her musical talent is recognized by all.

MRS. SPRAY

Evlyn R. Spray of the speech department received her B.A. degree from Butler University and M.A. degree from the Northwestern University School of Speech. As debate coach she is responsible for renewed interest in this field. She directed "Huckleberry Finn", the Junior High School play.

MISS VOLZ

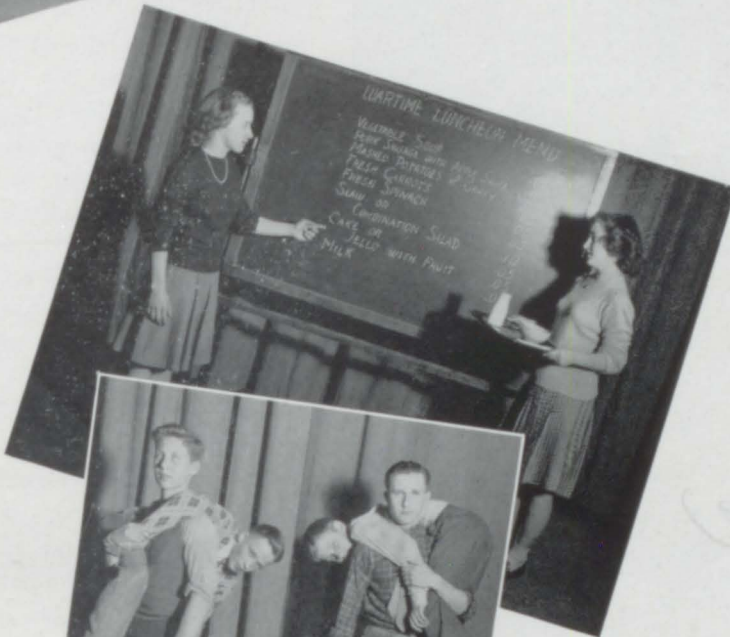

As a graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers College, Marie Volz holds a Bachelor of Education degree. Her profound interest in music is noted throughout each year by the numerous presentations of the Boys chorus and the Junior Choir, the solo contest, and music in the annual Christmas Pageant.

Herbert Johnson investigates opportunities in the field of science, while Angela Carroll and Zonabel Kingery study post-war problems.

Kathleen Sarture and Delores Ronic demonstrate artificial respiration on victims, Helen Supica and Lucille Raub.

In home economics classes Carolyn Blaschke and Beverley Young learn what makes a balanced wartime meal.

Robert Robertson and Jim Todd lift Bill Martin and Harry Masters in the "fireman's carry".

The Minuteman Flag is displayed by Bill Balcerak and Richard Athey.

the many problems that will confront the youth of today over the horizons of tomorrow. They look forward to progress in the paths of peace.

SENIORS

Back in 1940 when the class of '44 were freshmen, Bob Hoefle was president, John Blank vice-president, and Mary Ann Zorich, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Krampe was the sponsor. The first social function was a Halloween matinee dance. They demonstrated their dramatic talents in three one-act plays: "Pink and Patches", "Still Alarm", and "All in a Summer's Day".

In the fall of 1941 they chose Janice Hatz, Jeanne Stanton, Frances Isley, and George Michaely as president, vice-president, treasurer, and secretary, respectively, with Mr. Krampe as sponsor again. The sale of 1500 pounds of nuts added to the treasury and to the enjoyment of the Christmas holidays. This year they gave the three-act play "The Prince and the Pauper". The theme for the Sophomore Hop, their first night dance, was nursery rhymes.

In 1942 they elected Jeanne Stanton, president; Bob Hoefle, vice-president; Barbara Harmack, secretary, and Bob Wagner, treasurer, with Miss Egger as sponsor. Collaborating with the Sophomores, they gave two one-act plays: "Two Crooks and a Lady", and "Love in a French Kitchen". The big event this year was the Junior-Senior Prom.

September 1943 came and they were seniors at last. Shirley Taillon became president, Angela Carroll vice-president, Evelyn Tolpa secretary, and George Michaely treasurer. Mrs. Krueger was the sponsor. The Junior-Senior Prom was most important because it was their last big school dance. It was held early in February so that the boys entering the service could have their "last fling". All too soon they were ordering announcements.

The history of the class of '44 has been that of steady progress toward vast new horizons. They have seen a world tossed from the calmness of peace to the chaos of war. Through it all though, they have steadily advanced to graduation and now go forth to become the citizens of tomorrow.

—Mary Kay Wesbecher.

When the green "freshies" of 1941 began to tackle the first rudiments of high school life, it seemed that they were destined to be a unique class from that day on.

Organization was soon achieved under the leadership of the short but mighty Henry Hales, President, Shirley Biggs and Zonabel Kingery, Vice-Presidents, Aileen McFann, Secretary, and Gene Mathews, Treasurer. These officers, assisted by Mrs. Greve, chairman of the class sponsors, successfully planned a Halloween party and two general meetings.

Members of the class started dramatic careers as characters in "Tattercoats", the Junior High Play, and in a student production of "The Covered Wagon". The end of that first year found them eagerly anticipating their rank as "upper" classmen in the ensuing years. They had made the grade!

The first achievement of the dignified sophomores was a record-breaking nut sale replenishing their coffer, managed by the newly elected class officers with Bette Jurincic as President, George Bartfai, Vice-President, Norma Davidson, Secretary, Dick Jackson, Treasurer, and Mr. Reed the class sponsor. Jack King, the "Nut King", and Norma Buchfuehrer, "Nut Queen", received prizes of War Stamps for their efforts in the sale.

That the students were definitely becoming in evidence around school may be exemplified by the fact that they served as members and officers of the various clubs, Penelope George's recognized vocal achievements, the presentation of Patricia Remier at at Orchestra Concert, participation in the Freshman-Sophomore Play, and the capabilities of John Sikora, Henry Hales, and Joe Kuko as athletes.

The approach of spring heralded the traditional Sophomore Hop and a night of fun and frolic.

Our ventures this year include such things as participating in the sale of War Bonds and Stamps, salvaging waste paper, and tin, and supporting the Red Cross drive.

We congratulate Zonabel Kingery, the first Lew Wallace student to go beyond the city, for winning third place in the state meet of the American Legion Oratorical contest.

The juniors are preparing for tomorrow!

—Bette Jurincic.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore class has had a very successful year under the capable leadership of their president and the helpful guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Elkinton.

They started their high school career with Earl Yorkshot as president, Ann Lyle as vice-president and Frieda Adams as secretary-treasurer. The annual Freshman Frolic, which included games, dancing and refreshments, was the social high light of that year.

On February 18, 1944, in the spirit of St. Valentine's Day, the Sophomore Hop was held in the main gym. Thirty-five couples danced to the tunes of the latest hit records. Everyone entered into the spirit of this festive occasion and had a grand time.

have a splendid class spirit which indicates their continued reputation of reliability, energy and trustworthiness.

This year the nut sale, the business venture of every Sophomore class netted a profit of $98.55. The first prize of $5, which was presented for the sale of the most nuts, was awarded to Jay Butler, the second of $3 to Mary Hamilton, and the third of $1 to Robert Danieleski.

There are many Sophomores who have distinguished themselves this year, among them are Nick Dorrel, David Lighthill and Richard Athey. Nick won the state championship in '43 for 100 yard free style swimming. Sponsored by the Girls Glee Club, David appeared in a violin recital. Richard was one of the three chosen to compete for the honor of appearing on the coast-to-coast hookup of the Town Meeting of the Air speaking on the subject, "Does Youth Want Social Security from the Cradle to the Grave?"

All are interested in bringing the war to a close. The boys are being trained in their R.O.T.C. units and the girls are engaged in war service work. The Sophomores

FRESHMEN

The Freshman Class this year is very enthusiastic about everything they do. Ivan Elovich, as president, has received the best of cooperation from everyone. The vice-president, Robert Hansen, and the sponsor, Mrs. Coons, planned the class meetings. The treasurer, John Davies, reports that all but 75 of the 326 students have paid their class dues. This is a fine record for Freshmen. Jeanne Raub, the secretary, proves to be especially capable of keeping records of the business and discussion of the meetings. They have had three class meetings in the auditorium which have been very successful. The first of these was a discussion of General Lew Wallace, the story of the crest, the history of our school, and the class gifts. One of the others was a talk by a local minister on personality and character traits.

At the beginning of the year, the different organizations helped them to get settled by setting aside a week for the frosh. They were identified by green ribbons which were worn all week. Tours of the building were conducted to help them "get their bearings." The girls enjoyed a dance at which they were given big sisters who helped them in many ways. It hardly took a week 'til they were at home.

The Freshman Frolic was a Christmas party held after school in the portable gym. The committee in charge went to great pains to provide a spirit of the holidays through the decorations. They had fun dancing to the latest records and later enjoyed refreshments. As a novelty Santa Claus gave each one a gift.

In their first dramatic contribution they collaborated with the Junior High School students to present the "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn."

Whatever comes on their new horizons they will face with the same spirit already displayed.

—Mary Kay Wesbecher.

activities reflect student alertness to the role to be played in developing new spheres of progress. Interest abounds in science, art and discussion of current problems.

B. C. O.

The Better Citizenship Organization is the student government body of Lew Wallace. It was organized in 1929 to promote school interests among the students. The Council is composed of one representative from each home room and is directed by officers who are elected in the spring of the preceding year by the student body. The officers for the current year are Harrison Mellman, president; Gene Mathews, supreme judge; Charles Sarture, clerk; Henry Hales, junior associate judge, and Richard Athey, sophomore associate judge. Mrs. Greve is the faculty sponsor.

At the annual inaugural, Rev. James Lawson, guest speaker, talked on the subject, "Where Are We Headed?" That evening the dance was held in the school gym, which was decorated in a Christmas motif.

With the emphasis placed on the effort to help win the war, our student council this year sponsored several activities toward this goal. Some of these were the penny campaign which resulted in collecting 50,373 pennies, the war bond sale, and the waste paper collection. In connection with the Red Cross and tin can drives, the B. C. O. sponsored the tin can dance which netted enough cans for five thousand pain-killing syrettes and a sum of twenty-five dollars.

Striving to improve the organization, the council has suggested a change in the name and a new constitution is being drawn up reducing the number of officers and committees. This must be ratified by the student body.

AIDES

Organized in the fall of 1940, the Aides have been a service group working for their school, student body and faculty. Their goals are cultivating a spirit of friendship and unity among the various branches of activity and fostering and developing a democratic spirit that will unify the leadership of our high school.

The group is composed of students with high scholastic averages and numerous extra-curricular activities because they have more time to devote to school service and have proved themselves capable leaders. Co-officers, a boy and girl for each position, head the organization along with their sponsors, Miss Nesbit and Mr. Tormohlen.

Every year the Aides make the school calendar, rank the students in classes, usher at baccalaureate and commencement, and plan Activity Day. This year they assisted in rationing, sponsoring College Day, wrote programs for the students in the primary buildings, established an efficient monatorial system and distributed extra-curricular cards.

In January they had their first potluck and hope it will become an annual social event. Each member brought a covered dish to the home of Harrison Mellman and enjoyed a delightful evening.

The high standards which this organization has presented have spurred the student body to greater achievement, however the student Aides this year are not content with these accomplishments, but are surging ahead to approach the goals even more satisfactorily.

ORGANIZED in 1938, the Girls Club is one of our largest organizations since every high school girl is a member. The business is transacted through a council consisting of the officers and a representative from each girl home room.

One of their most important activities was the Big and Little Sister Sock Dance which was held during Freshman Week. Later they sponsored a junk jewelry drive. The girls collected trinkets and sent them to soldiers in the South Pacific who used them to barter with the natives.

The latter part of February, sixty-eight members attended the Chicago-Suburban and Lake County Girls Conferences. The closing event of the year was a Mother and Daughter Spaghetti Supper with Celeste Carlyle as guest speaker.

The organization is sponsored by Miss Nesbit and Miss Cheever.

BOYS CLUB

IN the summer of 1943 a group of interested boys met with Mr. Shirk and reorganized the Boys Club. In the fall the following officers were elected: President—Richard Hairrell, Vice-president—Herbert Johnson, Secretary—Charles Reiter, Treasurer—George Michaely. The business of this organization is transacted through a council consisting of the officers and one representative from each home room. The group is sponsored by Mr. Shirk, Mr. Polk, and Mr. Krampe.

As the first project of the year, the boys gave each high school student a list of Don'ts for Halloween pranks. They also assumed the responsibility of selling basketball and football tickets in the building.

For their part in the war effort they instigated the high school Paper Drive. With the assistance of the publicity furnished by the Girls' Club, they collected about 9000 pounds of paper. The closing activity was the Girls and Boys Club Dance, called the May Co-hop.

—Betty Nelson.

IN 1931 a charter was granted to Lew Wallace School for the establishment of a chapter of the National Junior Honor Society. The principles upon which it is based, as embodied in its constitution, are: "To develop loyal pupil citizenship; to create an enthusiasm for superior scholarship; to stimulate a desire to serve faithfully one's school, community and country; to promote trustworthy leadership; to recognize merit in scholarship and initiative originating in the scholar; and to instill exemplary qualities of character in the pupils." A flaming torch is a fitting symbol for the society.

To become a member a student must have high qualities of scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

The main event of the year is the spring induction when new members are formally admitted. This year, under the sponsorship of Miss Duggan and Mr. Shirk, they held a card party and bake sale for the benefit of the Red Cross.

SENIOR HONOR SOCIETY

"FOUR things a man must do if he would keep his record true: to think without confusion clearly, to act from honest motives purely, to serve his fellow men sincerely, to trust in God and Heaven securely."

Each semester in a ceremony held in the auditorium those juniors and seniors who meet the high requirements of scholarship, leadership, service and character are inducted into this organization. There are twenty members this year in the Lew Wallace chapter, sponsored by Miss McLean and Mrs. Krueger, eleven of whom are seniors.

Officers were: President, Angella Carroll; vice-president, George Michaely; secretary, Herbert Johnson; treasurer, Harrison Mellman.

—Theresa Knauer.

MEMBERSHIP in the Olympians is open to students in second year Latin with a grade of C or above. Two meetings are held each month, a social and a business meeting.

Their officers this year are: Consul Supremus—Theresa Knauer, Consul Secundus—George Bartfai and David Lighthill, Scriba—Delores Sailor and Ann Lyle, Questor—Norma Davidson, and Princeps Ludorum—Eugene Mitch.

An initiation for the new members is held each semester. The February initiation this year took place in the Palace of Neptune and was called the “Feast of Neptunalia.”

In May they held a reception for the 8 A's of Glen Park. They closed the year with a dance which was called “Hades Hilarities.”

This organization has been sponsored by Miss McLean ever since it was organized.

me SPRENCH

SEPTEMBER of 1943 may be recorded as the opening chapter to activities of a newly formed organization, the Sprech Club, a combination of the former French and Spanish clubs.

At a spring picnic members of these clubs voted for the combination because they felt that a unification would materialize into a club which could prove both interesting and beneficial to its members. The primary purpose of this club is to increase the appreciation and knowledge of both the languages. In accomplishing this the group has found it possible to teach one another songs and common words and expressions, peculiar to the Spanish or French. It also proves a stimulus to the study and understanding of their customs.

As the first Co-Chairmen, members elected Evelyn Tolpa and Ray Daugherty, Antonia Knauer, Secretary, and Joyce Grissom, Treasurer.

Among the social activities this first club year were a Halloween party, a Christmas party, at which the traditional Renata was served, and a Progressive dinner, at which several of the courses were French, Spanish or Mexican dishes.

Miss Cheever is the sponsor.

Notre espoir est à l'avenir.

Nuestra esperanza esta al porvenir.

Our hope is in the future.

—Bette Jurincic.

ON DECEMBER 3, 1940, a new club held its first meeting with Miss Parnell as the sponsor. The charter members chose to devote their programs to a discussion of movies, books, and radio. With this purpose in mind the name Salmagundians derived from Salmagundi, a mixture, was chosen. During the past year the following officers guided the organization: president, Betty Nelson; vice-president, Beverly Montz; secretary, Dorothy Barton; treasurer, Patricia Remier. Now in the fourth year of its existence, the club still holds to the purpose for which it was founded, and the members can boast that they are up-to-date on the latest books, movies, and radio programs. In addition to keeping up on the latest in the world of art and literature, the members collected books for service men, and submitted a biographical sketch of Oscar Levant in the Dr. I. Q. Radio Quiz Contest.

INKPOT

THE school's literary organization, the Inkpot, has been in active existence for eleven years. At their first meeting four members were present; today twenty attend the meetings held once a month. Since the membership is small, the meetings are held in private homes where the members read, criticize and rewrite their contributions. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ensweiler, this organization encourages promising young writers. The club expects to sponsor a publication of the plays, poems, short stories and other forms of creative writing by the members. In order to raise the money for the undertaking, the members presented a variety show, which revealed that they possessed other than literary talents. The officers this year were: president, Betty Jean Howard; vice-president, Frances Isley; secretary, Jeanne Stanton; treasurer, Eugene Mitch.

—Theresa Knauer.

QUILL AND BLADE

The title of our yearbook was selected because it symbolizes the great literary and military achievements of General Lew Wallace, for whom our school is named. We take justifiable pride in being the sole school actually authorized by the Wallace family to use the name and crest of General Wallace.

Being a biennial publication, the "Quill and Blade" is jointly managed by a staff of seniors and juniors. Remaining as head sponsor and general supervisor is Miss Shelley, who has worked in this capacity since the first edition in 1932. The staff was recommended and chosen by the senior and junior class officers.

This year an entire class-hour was devoted to the business of the "Quill and Blade." Organization of the staff consists of senior and junior editors, a business manager, and a group of writers.

Writing for publication was a new field for the staff but they learned quickly to be very glib with terminology and "dummy," "lay-out," "spread" and "bleed" became common expressions. The duties of the staff range from assisting in taking of pictures and soliciting sales to writing and typing. Sales reached an all time high of 660. Outstanding salesman proved to be Bob Wagner, who sold 120 annuals. Taking second honors was Barbara Shallberg with a total of 67 sales.

★ The student body and faculty deserve credit for their co-operation because no staff can publish a book entirely alone.

★ With great changes already introduced and many more on the way due to the present world conflict, the theme, "new horizons," was chosen to denote the future fields to which education will lead.

★ We, the staff, wish to express our confidence in the ability of modern educated youth to meet these "new horizons."

PHILOSOPHER

With the staccato click of typewriter keys and a race against last minute deadlines, the Philosopher, our school paper, is sent to press. Led by the proverbial "nose for news," the student reporters cover all athletic events, dances, concerts, plays and school activities.

The staff is headed by the editor and assistant editor. The business manager, exchange editor, production staff, artists, columnists and reporters work together to turn out a bigger and better school paper. The reporting, typing and editing are done by the students. Printing is done by the off-set method.

The policy of the Philosopher has been to foster real school spirit; to inform students of the activities in school; to encourage worthwhile activities; and to uphold, promote and carry out the traditions of Lew Wallace High School.

In addition to regular news articles, the Philosopher prints many interesting features. "Ramblin' Round the Campus" pictures the lighter side of school life. The "Clothesline" is as chic as the latest fashion plates. Fans reading the "Sports Parade" enjoy discovering the seriousness of the Hornet stingers. A favorite among those in service is the "Alumni Page."

With the help of the Booster Club, the Philosopher has been sent to over 200 of our boys and girls in service in all corners of the earth. It has been in front line foxholes, on the decks of battleships, and in the cockpit of the latest fighter plane. Letters of appreciation have come from the South Pacific, North Africa, Italy, England, and many camps in the United States. One copy of the Philosopher traveled from Gary to Africa, on to Italy, and then to England where it finally caught up with the Lew Wallace service man.

THE Cifr Club was organized in the fall of 1940 for the purpose of stimulating interest in the study of mathematics and "to promote and encourage social relationship among the mathematically inclined pupils". Membership is open to students who have completed or are completing a third year in mathematics.

Their colors are red signifying enlightenment and white signifying truth and logic. Cifr is the original Arabic spelling of the word cipher.

This year's officers are: Jack Field, president; Charles Walter, vice-president; Harriet Roy, secretary, and Betty Nelson, treasurer.

Each year they purchase a Christmas tree and members of the Plane and Solid Geometry classes make geometric designs for decorations so that it really becomes an attractive mathematical tree. The annual Christmas party was held in the home of a member where they played games and exchanged gifts.

The Cifr Club is sponsored by Miss Richardson.

PROJECTOR

AT this time there is a special impetus given to visual aids as a media of communication. In 1941 Mr. Dreven and a group of students, realizing the growing importance of projected pictures, organized the Projector club which would "bring the world to the classroom" via motion pictures.

Being a member of this purely service organization means that you give willingly of your time and endlessly of your efforts. In addition to showing the pictures, members are responsible for the maintenance of the sound equipment. The club presents an average of four films each week, most of which are rented from the University of Indiana library of films. Special films are offered for the vocational, safety, health, language, art, and social studies departments.

After school meetings are scheduled once every two weeks. Officers this year are: Jim DeGan, president, and Bill Shaw, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Reed assumed sponsorship for the club in 1943.

—Bette Jurincic.

WITH a net in one hand and a textbook in the other, a biology enthusiast may be seen pursuing his specimen. Miss Lemon organized this club in 1935 for her student biologists, so that those with an interest in this field might further "observe, explore, and discover the fascinating facts and relations of biology." The officers this year were: president, George Bikos; vice-president, Barbara Audo; and secretary-treasurer, Sheila Hilton. Membership is open to those maintaining a "C" average in scholarship and those who have had or are now taking biology.

This year the organization held a candy sale, instead of the usual apple sale, and donated fifteen dollars of the profit to the Red Cross. A trip to the Coca-Cola plant and parties for Halloween, Christmas and Valentine's Day were other activities.

The club is affiliated with the Junior Indiana Academy of Science.

KLUB KEM

KLUB KEM is now in the capable hands of Mrs. MacKenzie. Although there were long faces when Mr. Shelley departed, the members are carrying on with a "bang." The officers for this year are: chief chemist, Mildred Palansky; assistant chief chemist, Ruthe Hoffmeister, and secretary-treasurer, Harriet Roy.

At the meetings held every Monday, these future chemists applied their skills to the making of such products as soap, cold cream, shoe polish, sparklers and phosphorescent paint. To the marveling public they displayed these products and others in a show-case arrangement. This year the members under the guidance of their sponsor visited the Museum of Science and Industry. Another special activity was the pot-luck held at the home of a member, Vada Smith.

ONE of the most active clubs in school is the Auditorium Council consisting of both grade and high school students. It was organized in 1933 for the purpose of fostering an interest in auditorium activities. This group meets every Friday evening to discuss matters of business and to assign ushers for school events.

Initiation Week is eagerly anticipated by all members as the initiates are required to wear raincoats and boots, carry eggs for teacher's signatures, and pass out toothpicks as a symbol of generosity.

Besides the informal potluck held backstage, the council attends a banquet every spring where seniors receiving vocational diplomas in auditorium are presented with medals.

They furnish flowers for the auditorium and supply a Christmas basket for a needy family.

DRAMATIC CLUB

CONTRARY to most beliefs the main activity in this organization is not participation in dramatic productions, but experience in preparation, property, business, and staging of plays. After these points have been mastered, the plays are presented. Other details studied in connection with dramatics are communication or speech, citizenship, service, culture and art, and personality development.

Last year "They Burned the Books," a choral reading by this group, was in demand in both community and school as it set afire the embers of patriotism with its stirring appeal.

In the fall the club appeared at WIND in a benefit radio performance for the War Community Chest Fund. This year cuttings were presented from "Pygmalion," "The American Way," "Arsenic and Old Lace," "Neighbors," "In the Darkness," and the one-act play "Hearts Enduring."

The main project this year of the Senior Dramatics Club was the production "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder.

—Norma Davidson.

BEHIND the smiles and tears of "Huckleberry Finn," "Come Out of the Kitchen," "Our Town," and the many other plays, concerts, and special events that have appeared in our auditorium have been the tireless efforts of the stage crew. It is their duty to keep the stage in order, build and repair flats and scenery, paint, decorate, handle all equipment, and operate the switchboard. The many last minute emergencies that arise before curtain time must be met by quick thinking and acting stage hands. They are responsible for the care of one of the best equipped stages in Northern Indiana.

This is the first year that a girl, Hermine Krafft, has held the top position of stage manager. It is her duty to schedule stage hands for each hour of the day and for special assignments, and to oversee all backstage work. Mrs. Hannsz is the sponsor of the stage crew.

DEBATE SQUAD

THOSE pretentious looking little card files carried by Lew Wallace debaters don't contain recipes for never-fail cakes. They hold the carefully documented evidence used by the squad in practice and conference debates. This year's national high school debate question has been, Resolved: That the United States should join in reconstituting the League of Nations. Members of the varsity squad are Robert Danielecki and Zonabel Kingery, affirmative; Clarice Kaiser and Harrison Mellman, negative. Mrs. Spray is the coach.

As a result of the mounting interest in this speech activity, a junior debate class has been formed for 7th, 8th and 9th graders.

One member of the varsity team, Zonabel Kingery, went ahead to capture state honors in the American Legion Oratorical Contest based on the Constitution.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The first concert of the A Cappella Choir and Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Helen Egger was presented on Friday, June 2, 1939. Now it is an annual event.

They make valuable contributions to many school functions and always appear at commencement, baccalaureate and Christmas vesper services.

An annual event is the Olde Time Social usually sponsored in the spring. Here the students join in the Virginia reel, polka and square dance.

Both organizations take an active part in community affairs by singing at various churches, music appreciation groups, and teachers' conventions.

One of their most cherished memories is their presentation in December, 1940, of Josef Wagner, world renowned pianist.

The next year, Ann McIsaac and Allen Borch appeared in a joint recital as guest artists.

The A Cappella Choir and Girls' Glee Club foster an interest in better music and add to the cultural background of the school.

BECAUSE boys of our school love music and enjoy singing together, they willingly spend a part of each lunch hour practicing in a group known as the Boys Chorus. Their director is Miss Volz who organized this activity several years ago and who is largely responsible for its success.

As well as singing in many school programs, trios and quartets from the chorus share their talents with others at church functions and with music appreciation groups.

Audiences eagerly anticipate the appearance of these boys for their faces glow with earnestness and express the joy they find in music. Two songs which are in demand are their interpretations of "There is a Tavern in the Town" and "The Big Bass Viol."

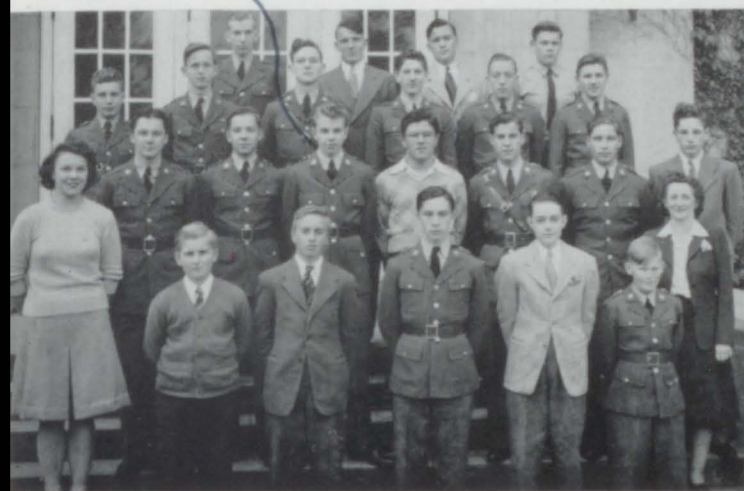

This spring they presented negro spirituals, patriotic songs and some music in a lighter mood when they appeared in the annual Choral Concert.

STRING ENSEMBLE

EVER alert for opportunities to serve the community, our instrumental music department has organized the String Ensemble to furnish music which will make a pleasant background for a dinner or tea. The students who form this group were selected from the Concert Orchestra. With the help of the assistant director, Miss Scheddell, they have prepared selections suitable for dinner music and other social occasions. At Christmas time they used a pleasing medley of carols and for Mothers Day variations of Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me."

Playing in public is always a delight to these students because it serves as an excellent opportunity to give poise and experience. This has considerable value for several members of the group hope to follow music as a career.

—Pat Remier.

LEW WALLACE is very proud of its outside patrol under the leadership of Mr. Hayes. The boys appear every hour of every school day. In fair weather their white belts gleam in the sunlight and on stormy days raindrops roll off their slick ulsters. Their red flags are a symbol of safety and caution to all pedestrians and motorists.

The "patrol age" is sixth, seventh and eighth grades and we find that the willingness and cooperation of these boys limits the actual patrol work to grade students under the leadership of high school boys.

The present officers are: Adolph Nattel, captain, and Jerry Collins, lieutenant. They preside at the weekly meetings held on Wednesday where the members report violations of safety rules and present suggestions for improvement.

Annually letters are awarded to boys who have completed a year's satisfactory service. Those receiving letters this year are: Tom Moore, Bob Wenzel, James Forrest and Arthur Waters.

BOOSTER CLUB

"YEAH, TEAM, we say team, fight!" is a familiar ejaculation belonging to our cheer leaders. They are trained untiringly by Mr. Carmony. Most of the Booster Club consists of cheer leaders, but there are also volunteer members. Jeanne Stanton is the president; Marjie Schleicher, vice-president; Dorothy Hoeffle, secretary, and Betty O'Bradovich, treasurer.

This group posts bulletins and is responsible for all posters. They sponsored some Wednesday matinee dances and the "in" and "out" games this year. The talent show, a Red Cross benefit, planned by this organization, was a huge success and proved the capability of Bill Glover as pianist and the originality of the ranch house quartet.

This year they are sending over 270 Philosophers to boys in the service who were formerly students of Lew Wallace.

—Norma Davidson.

Above we find the office force, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Hayes, Mrs. Polk, Miss Vrska, Mrs. Minniger and Mrs. Zimmerman. Accepting Red Cross contributions at a student-made booth are Delores Smith, Glenn Mathis, Audrey Ventura, and Mike Sekulich. The new majorettes of the Concert Band are June Cornell, Betty Cook, Grace Meyers, Anna May Chervenak. Mrs. Hannsz is examining a gift. You will surely recognize the faculty quartet at the Talent Show. The R.O.T.C. boys are Harry Hulse, Bob McHenry and Bill Walsh. In the girls group we find Penny George, Betty Nelson, Norma Davidson, Beverly Montz and Zonabel Kingery. Next to them is Dorothy Lemaich. At the beach are Kathryn Brice, Jane Pierce and Mary Cathryn Kern. The other groups are Betty O'Bradovic, Mary Kuruzovich and Dorothy Sommers; Pat Zimmer, Betty Davies, Donna Greathouse and Dorothy Barton.

FOOTBALL★

Football at Lew Wallace brought many surprises this year. Coach Polizotto, head coach for two years, worked real wonders. When the squad turned out last spring with a nucleus of only five lettermen, there were long faces to be seen throughout the school. At the close of the season, those same long faces had broadened into smiles. Our gridmen closed the season with an impressive record of seven victories and only one defeat, that unforgettable loss to Whiting.

Powered offensively by All State Rudy Krall, Indiana's leading prep scorer, and defensively by L. A. (Tiny) Bingham, All State Center, Lew Wallace's grid machine won the city title, and was crowned co-champion of the N. I. H. S. C. However, fortune frowned on our boys when Hammond Clark "won the toss" which decided who would represent this conference in the state title play-off. That wound was partially healed in a poll of the coaches taken by the Indianapolis Star; our boys were rated second only to the crowned champions.

BASKETBALL★

Basketball, the game of hopes in hoops, was a real success this year. No, we're not in the wrong season. We're not speaking of the great Region Champs of '42-'43.

Coach Polk started this season with only one real veteran and a bunch of scrapping green kids. If you attended the sectionals, you'll recall that Lew Wallace had a team on the floor—those scrapping green kids had been transformed into a smooth, basketball-wise machine. Our boys finished fourth in the conference and second in the city.

In all enterprise, there must be a period of building and conditioning—this past season was just that. Of our varsity, we are losing but two fellows by graduation. Our eighth grade team lost but one game, and our freshmen were victorious in the annual Invitational Freshmen Basketball Tournament in Michigan City. We are looking forward to a real team sometime in the near future.

SWIMMING

Swimming, Lew Wallace's wet sport, was almost a war casualty this year. Though greatly handicapped by the lack of transportation facilities, this sport did maintain its place in war-time athletics. The state meet was not held this year, but our mermen splashed their way to a strong second place in the conference meet.

Nick Dorrell, 100 yard free-style champion last year, swam true to form, his opponents failing to beat him at any time this year. Nick tied the state record of 5.7 seconds, and was hailed throughout the state as the uncrowned champion. Our 160 yard free-style relay team was also undefeated this year. This group consisting of Mushinsky, Mitchell, Chelich, and Dorrell, established a new conference record of 1:23.4. The conference meet was so close that had one of our boys placed second instead of third, Lew Wallace would have been the proud possessor of the conference crown.

—Richard Hairrell.

TRACK

Track is not a minor sport. Why it is subordinated to football and basketball is indeed difficult to comprehend. Track is a sport for real character building—it is a sport which demands self-reliance and stamina.

Many of the fifty fine boys participating in track this year are freshmen. Coach Polk is striving to re-establish this sport in its deserving position as a major sport, and he hopes to be able to use these youngsters as a nucleus. Good luck, boys, we may be watching you from Berlin or Tokio, but we'll be watching.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The G. A. A. is an organization for the development of physical fitness, better ideals of sportsmanship, and co-operation with others. Miss DeVol is the sponsor. Approximately fifty per cent of the 150 members participate in the many activities. There are about twelve different sports which occupy the girls all year round.

The G. A. A. Council is composed of the officers and twelve seniors and juniors. This year because of the demands of her outside work, the president, Isabelle Ornelas, resigned and Elaine Patterson, the sports co-ordinator, became the chief officer. Irene Klodzen is the secretary and Florence Jergens as treasurer collects dues and keeps financial records. It is the duty of the Council to take charge of each sport and to make plans for the other events.

Besides their athletic interests, the G. A. A. participates in many social activities with the supervision of Jeanette Marconi as social chairman. There is an informal initiation each fall and then the initiates are formally accepted as members at the annual potluck which is held before Thanksgiving Holidays. Valentine's Day was the theme for the annual dance. The gym was gaily decorated with red hearts and little cupids. The banquet always winds up the activities for the year. It is at this time the new officers and council members are introduced. The girls earning letters receive their sweaters and other awards.

The G. A. A. is an all-round organization of much benefit to all its members.

L'ENVOI

These hours of work and play are past,

~~The~~ busy days are done,

~~The~~ flag is lowered from its mast,

And westward sinks the sun.

The bugler's notes that sound retreat

Are echoing through the hall,

As each of us goes forth to meet

The future's stirring call,

For some the search for truth's clear light

To bridge the unknown gaps,

For some the task of freedom's fight,

For some the call of taps.

Beyond the sunset's golden hour,

Beyond the depths of night,

Dawns life with hope and faith and power,

Horizons new and bright.
